Browse All Knauf Insulation is striving to develop and bring to market products and solutions that will be vital in supporting the construction sector to deliver a low energy and sustainable built environment. We are amongst the pioneers in product sustainability performance information, with more information than ever available about our products. What's more, we have developed tools to help the market see how our products contribute to sustainable buildings. Through cooperation with our supplier, we are also making our supply chain more responsible and resource efficient. We also give clear guidance on the handling and comfort of our products. In a market where 'green claims' can be rather creative, there is a danger environmental benefits will lose meaning for customers. We analyse the impact of our products' entire life cycles in order to give credible facts. Read more SUSTAINABLE BUILDINGS AND GREEN BUILDING RATING SYSTEMS We are working hard to help the building chain get the most out of the saving potential of insulation in practice, not just in theory.
